rude weapon by fastening a stone to the end string.

Man used stick and stone long before he dared to meddle with fire. Fire, of course, existed, for lightning must sometimes have set the forests ablaze just as it does today; and in those days volcanoes were much more active than they now are. The forgotten hero who first dared to tame fire to his own use was the greatest of early inventors, for one had a fire he was the master of all lower creatures.

Unit-IV

4. (a) Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions given below :

People talk of memorials to Gandhi in statues of bronze or marble or pillars and thus they mock him and belie his message. What tribute shall we pay to him that he would have appreciated ? He has shown us the way to live and the way to die and if we have not understood that lesson, it would be better that we raised no memorial to him, for the only fit memorial is to follow reverently in the path he showed to us and to do duty in life and in death.

His death brought more tributes than have been paid at the passing of any other human being in history. Perhaps what would have pleased him best was the spontaneous tributes that came from the people of Pakistan. On the morrow of the tragedy, all of us forgot for a while the bitterness that had crept in the estrangement and conflict of these past months and Gandhiji stood out as the champion and leader of the people of India as it was before partition cut up this living nation.
